PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

I wish to congratulate the editor, members of the Liberty Lion staff, and faculty advisors on the production of this splendid Annual of which we are all very proud. Through your fine spirit of cooperation, unselfishness, industry, enthusiasm, and determination you have achieved signal success in this line of endeavor.

Here, as in athletics and all other school activities, you have ably demonstrated that you have measured up to the high standards which you and your school so zealously strive to continuously maintain.

It is my sincere hope that you and the entire membership of this student body will continue to develop and intensify within yourselves these qualities of loyalty, tolerance, honesty, industry, clean sportsmanship, and perseverance which have won for you the public's most favorable commendation for your successes in your school work, in your varied school activities, and in your athletic contests.

Finally, judging your future by your past, I have no hesitancy in predicting that the part you, as individuals, will play in preserving our heritage of freedom, justice, and democracy for all will be a fine and constructive part.

E. G. NASH,
Principal.

A MESSAGE TO STUDENTS

For many years, we, the youth, have been told that our futures lie before us. Much emphasis has been put on future success and future happiness. We have been constantly reminded that we are the citizens of tomorrow and that we have inherited a wonderful land of liberty, the United States of America. However, now our liberty and our futures have been threatened. We face for the first time the horrors of war, horrors we have encountered only in history books up to now.

The shock of war has provided a seemingly firm reason for youth to disregard completely their plans for the future and to think only of crowding all their desires into the immediate present. However, now more than at any other time, clean and normal living should be emphatically stressed. Although there is an atmosphere of uncertainty, there are futures for the youth, futures which will demand the best from each individual. When the war is over and the countries are left war-torn and crippled, strong minds and healthy bodies will be sorely needed to lift our country from the depths of war.

I think that the Seniors should take more care this year in planning for the future than they would under normal conditions. To the Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors, I would like to say this: Everyone wishes to do his part, and your part lies in the task of becoming capable and fit to undertake the reconstruction of our government when peace is again restored.

BARBARA REYNOLDS,
Class of 1942.
In 1939-1940, under the instruction of Mr. George Kristovich, a Dramatics Class was organized in order to give students interested in the drama an opportunity to study and to gain practical experience. The following year this club became a class and has continued successfully.

With the direction of Mr. Kristovich, each succeeding year has shown an improvement in the presentation of our student body plays. The many enthusiastic students in the cast and stage crew who have shared both the trying labor and aesthetic pleasure in making these plays a success, have enjoyed working with Mr. Kristovich, and through his interest and guidance they have gained considerable knowledge and experience.

This year Mr. Kristovich was elected by the Senior Class to guide them in their last year, and the members of the Student Affairs also chose him to be their advisor.

In keen appreciation, therefore, for his sound advice, never-tiring effort, and enthusiastic interest in the welfare of the students, we, the staff of the 1942 Liberty Lion, dedicate this annual to Mr. George Kristovich.

In September,
the school social activities got into swing when the girls entertained themselves with their annual Girls' Hi-Jinx. Everyone "let down her hair" and had a rousing good time, with hilarious games and delirious dancing.

In October,
the Freshmen were graciously welcomed to our number at the Freshman Reception given and sponsored by the upper classmen. The boys and girls danced to the music of the greatest orchestras in America, in the form of records. Old Clothes Day on October 23 ushered in the football season.

In November,
two dances were held, the Sophomore Hop using a barn dance theme and a Future Farmers' dance.

In December,
the Hi-Jinx, to the theme of the Gay 90's, was held in spite of an all-out blackout. The Juniors really drew the customers with their concession, wherein one got a chance both to win a prize and air one's grievances by throwing balls at the images of Hitler, Hirohito, and company. Everyone welcomed Christmas vacation after the Hi-Jinx.

With January and the new year, the students trooped back to school, refreshed and eager (?) to return to work.

In February, the girls got a chance to pursue the objects of their affections at the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance, also combined with Valentine's Day. Many new friendships were cemented on that memorable night. Also the Dramatics Class gave a serious and thought-provoking program for Lincoln's Birthday.

The two formal dances of the year, the Junior Prom and the Senior Ball, were held on April 17 and May 15, respectively. The Future Farmers held their Field Day on May 30. Many agricultural activities and enterprises were exhibited.

The final and most important event of the year, Graduation, took place on June 12, and everyone attended in best bib and tucker to bid the mighty Seniors goodbye. The rest of us were looking forward to summer vacation.

ART

The Art Department offers courses in Commercial Art, Craft, and Stage Craft. In the Advanced Commercial Art Classes under Miss Loze, considerable time has been devoted to display problems and poster design. The Art Classes contributed to the school and community by advertising the current war effort in the field of Civilian Defense and purchase of bonds and stamps.

The Stage Craft Class taught by Miss Rademacher has spent its time designing and building the sets for the Class Dances, Student Body Play, The Mothers' Tea and Graduation.

DRAMATICS

The Dramatics Class has contributed to the Freshman Reception, to the Hi-Jinx, to the Student Body Assemblies, and has presented a Lincoln's Day Program. They also traded entertainment with Livermore High School.

The Class has attended several plays at the University of California and the College of Pacific Little Theatres.
The Music Department, under the direction of Mr. John Farr, has had many activities during the year.

The orchestra played for the Freshman Reception, High Jinx, Student Body Play, Lincoln's Day Program, and Graduation.

By playing and marching at the games, the band added "color" to all the sports.

The Glee Club sang at the Freshman Reception, High Jinx, and numerous other programs throughout the year.

Members of the band and orchestras demonstrated their instruments and how to play them at the elementary schools of Diablo Valley.

The orchestra also attended a concert of Percy Grainger and the College of Pacific orchestra in Stockton.

The second annual Spring Concert was held May 15. The program consisted of musical numbers by the band, orchestra, Glee Club, and special duets and solos.

The Music Department is to be commended on its accomplishments throughout the past year.

HOME ECONOMICS

Home Economics has three departments: Foods, Clothing, and Household Management.

In Foods, under the direction of Miss Peirce, the students learn how to prepare and cook breakfast, lunch and dinner. They are learning the importance of health foods, marketing problems, thriftiness in buying, cleanliness in home, table service and etiquette.

Miss Radmacher and Miss Loze are the instructors in Clothing. They are emphasizing the four important phases of the clothing program: the economic, the construction, the health, and the aesthetic. In the economic phase the students are taught clothing inventory, wardrobe planning, accounts and budgets and better buying. The health phase includes posture and clean clothes. The construction phase includes dress forms, patterns, cutting, making and finishing the garment. The important points in studying the aesthetic phase of clothing are: wardrobe planning, color and line patterns, and fabrics.

In Household Management, which is taught by Miss Loze, the girls make a study of all the problems pertaining to the management of the home.
In Liberty Union High School there are four main science classes. These classes are usually taken in the following order: General Science, Biology, Chemistry, and Physics.

General Science is a survey course in which the students study various fields of science, especially those that are important to everyday life.

Biology deals with both plant and animal life, from the one-celled plants to the gigantic trees, from the amoeba, the simplest single-celled animal, to man, the most complicated form of all life.

Chemistry is a class in which the students try to learn why changes occur in certain materials under certain conditions. The student learns much about the constituents of matter in order to explain why these changes occur. There is more laboratory work done in this class than in any of the other science classes.

Physics is a subject in which many everyday happenings, such as how a train or automobile works or why a musical instrument plays, are explained.
COMMERCIAL

Under the skillful guidance of Miss Clark and Miss Flanagan, the Commercial Classes are working along with the idea of producing better secretaries for positions in the near future.

Typing classes are being taught to type from every source of material as well as from straight manuscripts.

Pencils are moving fast as the shorthand students are learning the rules for the "mysterious" signs. Miss Clark is teaching her students the idea of making them swift and accurate secretaries, ready for the positions the government will undoubtedly have open for them after graduation.

Fifteen commercial students helped with the registration of Selectees for the Draft Board. The Selective Service System expressed its appreciation for the help of these students.
AGRICULTURE

The Future Farmers this year have been interested in the completion of the new Agriculture Building. Now that the building is finished they are diverting their time to National Defense. Gathering scrap metal from the farmers of this district, and growing a vegetable garden are among the many activities of this group. The profits of these ventures will go into the treasury of the Future Farmers of America.

In February a number of boys attended a veal calf day at the Stockton stockyards. This day is set aside for the purpose of better acquainting the boys with the different grades of livestock and the use of a Central Market Stockyard.

The Fifth Annual Future Farmers' Day was held May 30. The day's activities included a large parade, agricultural displays, and a Horse Show.

The projects for the year showed a labor income of $5,952.92 for which the members worked 7,581 1/4 hours.
ATHLETICS

The Physical Education Classes are under the direction of Miss Schieffer, Mr. VonderAhe, and Mr. Claudon who replaced Mr. Mirande.

The purposes of these classes are to build strong bodies and foster good sportsmanship.

Basketball, Baseball, Football, and Track are the main boys' sports.

Tennis, Basketball, Speedball, Archery, Badminton, and Social Dancing are the chief girls' sports.
The thud which resounded when foot met pigskin at the beginning of the season, was certainly an indication that there would be a team this year, but no one dared to guess what chances we had for the championship. It was the opinion of many that our Lions would make a very poor showing, but when they came through in a blaze of glory and captured the league championship, a great number of staunch supporters were surprised, if not stunned, at the seemingly impossible feat that had been brought about by long hours of work and fine cooperation.

On September 19 the Lions took the field in their initial game against the Dons of Acalanes and took them into camp to the tune of 6 to 0.

With first game jitters over and plays going smoothly the team was set for its next engagement. After a slow start the gang was suddenly brought to life when the Rio Vista Indians pushed over a quick touchdown. After the clouds of dust had settled, we were on the long end of a 20 to 6 score.

October 10 found the Liberty team trampling the hopeless California School for the Deaf team, 26 to 0. Winning the game with San Ramon on October 17 was quite easy for the Lions since the Green and Gold was forced to forfeit the game.

The day of October 24 came and the Lions embarked for Emeryville where they were quite sure they were going to "wow" the bay city crowd, but the Panthers sent forth a team that offered the strongest resistance thus far. Final score: Liberty 19, Emeryville 14.

Then on October 21, the Cowboys from Livermore sent over a fast and well balanced team. Even though the score was 27 to 12 in our favor, it did not indicate the hard battle put on by both teams.

Confidence, but not over-confidence, prevailed as Liberty went into its game with Amador on November 7 in the all-important championship game, and we had again won the pennant for the third time in five years.

Team and school spirit was high the day of the "Big Game" with Antioch, but by both speed and power, we were overwhelmed by the paper city team. Scoring in both the first and fourth quarters, the Panthers were victors by a score of 14 to 0.

With a bruising game with Antioch and the Amador game only four days before, the second Acalanes game was too much for the Lions. In ten days the team had played three games, therefore, the Lions were no match for the Dons after the first half. Final gun found Acalanes leading 20 to 6.

The Acalanes game dropped the curtain on an outstanding football season.

Anna Schieffer, Advisor; Ed Cordua, Doug Allen, Lloyd Tipton, Bill Freese, Bob Dal Porto, Jack Farrar, and Arthur Allen.
Girls' Athletics have started with a new program for 1941-1942 under the direction of Miss Schieffer. The girls have their fall, winter, and spring sports lined up for the season.

New classes in tennis started this year in the fall and will continue in the spring.

Golf is taught this year by Mrs. Brewer.

Another new activity added to the gym period is Danish Gymnastics. There is also new equipment for archery so that more of the girls can become proficient in this activity.

Social Dancing as well as First Aid are additions to the yearly program and afford pleasure as well as practical knowledge.
